New order for several thousand servers in Cloud Computing

Strasbourg (France), April 6, 2022 - 2CRSi (ISIN: FR0013341781), designer and manufacturer of high-performance, energy-efficient computer servers, announces the winning of a significant new order.

2CRSi teams have won a new order to supply several thousand OCP (Open Compute Project) servers for one of the leaders in Cloud Computing. Monthly deliveries are planned after two initial deliveries of 1,500 servers each. This customer is expected to account for approximately €18 million in revenues for the current fiscal year, compared to €3.5 million for the previous fiscal year.

Some of the equipment will come from the circular economy, an approach that is dear to 2CRSi, as it is a guarantee of sustainable growth but also of profitability in these times of shortages. Equipment that has had a first life in a datacenter will be refurbished and supplemented with new components that will ensure optimal operation for several more years.

"This new server order is a recognition for our teams who design and build solutions for all types of customers. The needs of Cloud Computing are optimally met through 2CRSi's eco-design approach," said Alain Wilmouth, Chairman and co-founder of 2CRSi.
